ATTEMPTED SEIZURE OF A
LAUNCH.—A very daring attempted seizure of a launch in the Canton river is reported. It appears that whilst the launch which was towing, a junk, was on its way to Heungshan from Canton, a band of pirates suddenly boarded and attempted to effect a seizure. A fight ensued, which terminated in the entire capture of the ship's guards by the robbers, who immediately landed with their prisoners, and allowed the launch and junk to go in peace. The funny part of it was the entire absence of the usual plundering of the passengers' baggage, and the ransacking of the cash boxes on the boats.
It is believed that the object of the robbers in capturing the guards is to demand ransoms from their various relations.

ANOTHER FLYING MACHINE.—An Antwerp Engineer is said to have submitted the plans of a new type of flying aerial machine to the Belgian Minister of War. Adequate particulars have not yet reached us. All we hear is that the car is to be propelled by air. The balloon is cigar-shaped, and has an aluminium tube running through it from end to end. An eight-bladed screw is placed at the end of the tube, and is driven by a motor fixed immediately above the car. The inventor claims that the rotation of the screw will produce a vacuum in the tube, and the rushing in of the outer air to fill the vacuum will propel the balloon at a speed of 20 metres a second.

A CROW YARN.—"Waverley" weighs in with a tall crow yarn from Bangalore. He writes: "Who says birds are not sensitive? The other day, one of my acquaintances bought one of those gourd made by natives into toys, out of which an imitation snake springs out as soon as the lid is removed. After ringing the changes on his friends, my acquaintance thought he'd try the effect on a crow, he fastened a piece of banana on to the lid, and then buried the gourd—all but the top—in the ground, in a place where crows were in the habit of prospecting for tiffin. Very soon a festive old cock crow came along, and after reconnoitring the gourd half a dozen times made a dig with his beak at the banana. Of course, the lid came off, and the snake popped out. What happened? Why! the crow fell down stone dead instantly. I know it was fright—sheer funk—for, on examination, we found its heart jammed in its throat."—Asian

LADY CURZON'S ROMANCE.—An amusing story is related of Lady Curzon of Kedleston, formerly Miss Mary Leiter, of Chicago. It was in Washington that a young Attache of one of the Embassies became so conspicuous in her service that, owing to a funny little incident, he eventually gave up the post. It happened in this way. The infatuated young man, knowing that Miss Leiter was going to a certain ball, went out one day and ordered a large box of American Beauty roses, which he took with him, stopping on the way home to make a purchase of winter fannels, etc. One box was handed over to his valet, while, a few hours later, Miss Leiter opened the second, together with a card entreating her "to wear these for my sake," and discovered the young diplomatist's fannels! The story soon penetrated to his club, and, not at all appreciating the laughter at his expense, he shortly after accepted an appointment elsewhere.

ERADICATING THE PRICKLY-PEAR.—The Department of Agriculture in Queensland has resolved to offer the substantial reward of £5,000 for the discovery of a means of eradicating the "prickly pear." A proviso will be made that the cost must not exceed a certain sum per acre, and the Department will have to be satisfied that the means adopted are efficacious. As it is the Department has a process evolved from the experiments at the Westbrook State Farm, but the cost per acre is too great. "Prickly pear" (Opuntia vulgaris) is a cactus, imported from America, which flourishes in hot dry climates, the leaves are covered with minute prickly hairs, which come off on the plant being handled and occasion suffering to whatever animals they attach themselves to. Of late years the "prickly pear" has spread very much in parts of Australia, and the action which the Government of Queensland is taking in offering a reward for its eradication is very wise. The plant has yellow blossoms and purple fruit, and only by personal experience is its dangerous property discovered.

THE KWANG-SI REBELLION.

[From our own Correspondent.]
CANTON, 23rd March.
Rumours have been flying all over the City this morning about the Kwang-si rebellion, all pointing in certain very important news. As yet the populace are unable to glean any facts, as the authorities have exercised a strict censorship on all telegrams received, and over the native newspapers. As soon as I get any important news, shall notify you.

THE VOLUNTEER INSPECTION.

Climatic conditions did not tend to make the annual inspection of the Hongkong Volunteer Corps a very pleasant function for during the whole of Saturday afternoon a thin penetrating rain fell without a break rendering the roads muddy and slippery and the khaki uniforms of the men damp and uncomfortable. But the ceremony had to be faced and it was gratifying to note that out of a total strength of 318 no less than 261 men answered to the roll-call. Of the remaining 57, 24 were sick and 8 absent under medical certificates, so that 22 only failed to attend, and of those almost a dozen are out of the Colony on leave. After the march out from Headquarters to the polo ground at Causeway Bay the corps were formed up and inspected by Major General Sir W. J. Gascoigne, who was accompanied by three staff officers. The general salute was first accorded the Major General, the men's accoutrements were then examined, and the march past followed after which an advance in review order took place. The corps then formed up in three sides of a square and were addressed by the inspecting officer who observed that he had nothing to add to remarks he had given expression to on previous occasions. The inspection had been highly satisfactory alike in the numerical strength of the parade and in the manner in which the evolutions had been carried out. It was a sincere pleasure to him to see the serious way the regiment was assuming the responsibilities incidental to its existence, and he trusted that such praiseworthy efforts would not be permitted to relax, for, as had already been said, the Corps now occupied an important place in the defence scheme of the Colony. While the regiment had considerably advanced in efficiency since he took over the command of the Garrison here, Major General Gascoigne desired to say that personally, he took no credit for what had been accomplished in that direction; the honour lay with the officers attached to the Corps, and in no small measure with the present acting Commandant, Major Chapman. Captain Pritchard had now been appointed to the position of Commandant, and with his arrival here, a new influence that could only tend to the continued betterment of the Corps. Continuing in the same strain, His Excellency said that the regiment had that day been paid the highest compliment almost possible for it to receive, for at a special meeting of the Executive Council convened by him to discuss the question it had been decided that those best entitled to represent the Colony at the forthcoming Coronation of His Majesty were the men who gave their services to the Colony. A telegram had been received from the Secretary of State to the effect that the home authorities were willing to have a representative contingent from Hongkong to take part in the Coronation procession, and it had been unanimously decided by the Executive Council that the formation of that contingent should be left to the Volunteer Corps. That those selected to go home to London to represent the Colony would acquire themselves as men, as true soldiers of the King and the Empire, he was fully confident.

Major-General Gascoigne afterwards presented the Challenge Shield to "C" Machine Company, which has won it two years in succession. On returning to Headquarters, Major Chapman, before dismissing the parade, expressed his thanks to all ranks for the enthusiasm with which they had acted under his command. As to the men to be selected to go home in connection with the Coronation, it had been decided by His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government to call for more names, in order to facilitate the work of selection. Those who were chosen to go to London would be carried there and back at Government expense, and would travel according to their rank; in London they would probably be quartered in barracks, and would be under strict military discipline. Concluding, Major Chapman said that names should be sent in as soon as possible, as many arrangements would have to be made, including the providing of new uniforms.

The men were then dismissed.

MR. JOHN ROBERTS, THE BILLIARD CHAMPION IN HONGKONG.

Last night, Mr. John Roberts, the billiard champion, gave an exhibition of his skill at the Chinese Club. The room was crammed, and the brilliant and scientific manner in which the champion used his cue called forth frequent applause. He first played against Mr. E. H. Hinds and afterwards, Mr. A. G. Stokes, both games being of 750 up. He conceded to the former gentleman 450 points and 475 to the latter. In both games the champion won by 105 and 68 points respectively. His highest breaks were 91, 88 (unfinished), 76, 72 and 67 in the first game, and 211, 87, 83, and 68 in the second. Mr. Hinds's were 19, 18, and 13, whilst Mr. Stokes's were 36, 22, and 19. Two games of "pyramids" followed, the champion playing the same gentlemen, and conceding 5 points to each. In the game with Mr. Stokes, Mr. Roberts won easily, but lost to Mr. Hinds by one point. A series of trick billiards followed, chief amongst which was the "Jumping" of the red ball over the gas chandeliers, which evoked storms of applause. The proceedings terminated at 12.30. To-night Mr. Roberts will play at the Hongkong Club at 9.15 and to-morrow at 5 p.m.

FAST-STEAMERS FOR THE FAR EAST.

A home paper explains why fast steamers do not run to the Far East, India, Australia, and the Cape. There are many reasons, probably the chief of which is that passengers will not pay more than £70 or £80 for the longest journey eastwards, whereas rich Americans—always growing more wealthy and adding to their numbers—will pay as much as £200 each for a single quick trip across the Atlantic. Then, again, there are many ports of call on the Eastern routes, where the great liners stop from twelve to forty-eight hours, but once a steamer has put out into the Atlantic she has nothing to stay her progress except the unforeseen. It is the same on the long Oriental journeys as with America-bound steamers—engines with greatly increased horse-power would be needed. Coaling stations on the eastern routes are far apart, and for quick passages, such as are made on the North Atlantic, enormously increased space on the Oriental liners would be required for the storage of fuel. The Suez route takes only steamers drawing not more than 26 ft., and, again, the heat of the Red Sea is such that it is impossible to condense the steam with sufficient rapidity. Thus the journey from Port Said to Aden, a distance of only 1,400 miles, occupies nearly five days, twenty-four hours being actually spent in traversing the Canal, which is only eighty-seven miles.

THE BOER AND THE BAYONET.

It is a circumstance worth nothing in connection with the present phase of the war in South Africa that the Boers appear to have overcome their dread of the bayonet. The tactics which the Boers invariably adopted and which were the despair of our troops were to fight at long range, prevent our men from coming to close quarters and to retreat when hard pressed. The Boers evidently believed that it was foolish to fight at close quarters or they dreaded the bayonet and the lance. The war correspondents used to send thrilling and graphic accounts of gallant charges with bayonet and lance by our troops and of the great dread with which these weapons had inspired the Boers, and the general belief was that the Boers feared a bayonet or cavalry charge and could never be induced to stand up against it or to come to close quarters with our troops. Whether the conclusion was correct or not, the Boers seem to have overcome their dread of the bayonet, for they have changed their tactics altogether and now do not hesitate to rush our troops. A number of instances have occurred in which our troops have been charged by the mounted Boers, the latest being near Klerksdorp, where the enemy is said to have recklessly charged on the convoy and succeeded in capturing it although our soldiers opposed them with fixed bayonets.

A MAGNETIC MOUNTAIN.

This will recall to the memories of many old associations with "Sinbad the Sailor," and the remarkable loadstone mountain that pulled out all the nails from ships' hulls, and caused them to founder. A few interesting details have been gleaned from the Norwegian papers, as to the dangerously magnetic properties of a "mountain" in the Jæderen province, on the Norwegian coast. There can be no question as to the existence of the "mountain," though its dimensions have been greatly exaggerated. It is, in fact, a great straggling dune, of about 1,000 yards in length. The bulk of the dune is composed of sand, with which, however, is intermingled such a large proportion of loadstone in minute fragments that the compass of a ship coming within a certain distance of the coast at once becomes wildly deranged, and it happens far from infrequently that the vessel is stranded.

AMERICAN DOCTOR'S SELF-SACRIFICE.

HIS BODY OFFERED FOR VIVISECTION.
A Brooklyn physician has made the startling offer of his life as a sacrifice on the altar of scientific research. Dr. James Edwin Russell, of No. 1,032 Bedford-avenue, invites the surgeons to use his body as a subject for vivisection, and does so in the following terms:—"I hereby offer myself as a subject for vivisection in any direction or along any lines whatsoever which may be selected. I will myself, when able and competent, assist my vivisectors by such notes as may be of interest and value to them or me. The experiments are to continue until I am too exhausted to be of future value as a subject, or until I succumb. Should I survive at the end of the year of observation and experiment, I hereby stipulate that I may elect to be released from further service."

Dr. Russell says that he has consulted counsel to ascertain if any legal step might be taken to prevent him from carrying out his intention and says he has been advised that he may proceed without any risk of interference. According to the Telegraph correspondent Dr. Russell is forty-four years of age, has been practising as a physician for twenty-two years, and is a graduate of the New York Homoeopathic University. He states that his sole object in making this unparalleled offer is to further scientific knowledge. He believes that by this course he will be able to silence what he terms the rant of the anti-vivisectionists.

CHINA AND MANILA STEAMSHIP COMPANY.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

MANY QUESTIONS ASKED.

There was a very large attendance of shareholders at the nineteenth ordinary general meeting of the China and Manila Steamship Company held at noon last Saturday at the offices of the General Managers, 14 Des Voeux Road. Mr. R. Shewan presided, and others present included Messrs. N. A. Siebs, H. P. White, D. E. Brown, and G. H. Medhurst (Directors), Dr. Noble, Messrs. D. Gillies, G. K. H. Brutton, G. L. Tomlin, G. T. Veitch, C. Palmer, A. Babington, T. Arnold, S. A. Joseph, E. S. Joseph, A. G. Gordon, P. C. Potts, S. J. Michael, J. R. Michael, S. Benjamin, C. Klink, H. Humphreys, C. Ewins, A. C. S. Manners, J. S. Perry, A. G. I. Somerville, J. McMurtrie Ho Fook, Fung Wa Chun, Siu Un, and many others.

The notice convening the meeting was first read.

The Chairman then said:—Gentlemen, as usual we will, with your permission, take the reports and accounts, copies of which have been in your hands for some days past, as read. The profits for the year show a falling off, as cargo was rather scarce for a few months, but I am glad to say that this did not last long. Since then the traffic between this place and the Philippines has increased, we have at last begun to get some return cargo from Manila, the coole trade has revived again, and the saloon passenger trade continues to grow and justify us in every respect in the step we took in building boats of the size and class of the Zafiro and Rubi. In proof of this I may tell you that we have already had to increase the saloon accommodation of these boats since they came out here. Under all the circumstances and bearing in mind that we had the benefit of running one of the new boats for only one month I think a net profit of $115,000 after ample allowance has been made for depreciation, cannot be considered unsatisfactory. It is a great disappointment to us that we cannot pay a dividend out of these earnings, but a glance at the accounts will show that this is impossible as we have no funds in hand available for such a purpose. To complete the purchase of the new boats we have had to borrow £50,000 from London, giving a mortgage on the vessels themselves as security, and this loan has been written down in the present accounts to an exchange of 1/9 which explains the item of $49,000 odd against "exchange adjustment &c." To provide for the repayment of this loan we issued additional capital to the extent of $500,000 but notwithstanding the encouragement to make this issue that we received at the time, and the promises of support that were made to us, I am sorry to say that when it came to the point a great many shareholders were found wanting and foolishly, as I think, instead of protecting their property have preferred to abandon their interests and sell out at panic prices. I am glad, however, to say that not all have acted in this manner; so far over 50 per cent of the new capital has been taken up and when the weaker vessels have all retired the result will be that the shares will be in stronger and better hands. I understand that the opposition that has recently come on the line has been the cause of frightening shareholders into thinking that the outlook for this Company is very black. I cannot say that I take that view, the trade with the Philippines is growing very largely and although more ships come on against us I think that is equally compensated for by the increased volume of cargo going forward. We are in conjunction with the other two lines and are watching the situation very carefully and I can assure you gentlemen, that we will not waste money needlessly. It is not desirable at a public meeting to enter into the details of what we are doing, but I may assure you that the interests of the Company will be very carefully guarded.

We have two of the finest boats that have ever been on this Coast and their popularity as passenger and cargo steamers has, been most clearly demonstrated. They are favourites with shippers on account of their larger cargo capacity, as when there is a rush of cargo there is much less danger of any being shut out and causing confusion and trouble with broken shipments. In such cases Chinese shippers are very apt to combine and take up some cheap cargo boat that may be offering in the market, a danger that these larger carriers obviate. The two small boats the Esmeralda and Diamante have been withdrawn from the Manila line and are being employed in the rice trade from Saigon and Bangkok, for which they are well adapted. Both boats stand at a low figure in our books and can be run cheaply and should make a good return to the Company, but we are quite prepared to part with either if a reasonable price can be obtained. So far however, although we have had negotiations in one or two directions we have not succeeded in eliciting a firm offer. The statement now laid before you shows that the position of the Company is far from an unsound one, that your property is not overvalued, and that there is no real reason for much misgiving on the part of those shareholders who are bona fide investors and not merely speculators who have bought for a rise, and take no permanent interest in the Company. It is true that Great Britain's new allies, the Japanese, have come upon the scene and cut into our business, and if these be the ways of friends and allies we may well pay to be saved from our friends, but these things are only temporary, the whole nature of the Manila trade with Hongkong has changed and is changing, but when conditions have adjusted themselves to the new order of things I have every hope that the Company will emerge from the struggle in a better and stronger position than ever. A suggestion has been made that we should pay a dividend in scrip if we cannot pay one in cash. That might have been done, if all the shareholders had subscribed for their proportion of the new shares, by declaring a dividend and receiving it in payment of calls, but under present circumstances it is not practicable. It comes to this that we must wait another year for a dividend, that is all. Some shareholders appear to think that because we have a debt of 7 lacs we must give up the thought of dividends for years to come, but I do not follow their reasoning; we have or shall have, I think, at least 3 lacs from the new capital, which will leave a debt of 4 lacs on property worth over 2 millions which is merely nothing for the Company to carry. If it is then many companies must be in a bad way though they are paying their interest and good dividends as well with much larger debts than ours. Now, gentlemen, I will propose that the report and accounts as presented be adopted and passed. I will call on some one to second it and then before I put the motion to the meeting I will give you "all an opportunity of expressing your opinions and asking any questions."

Mr. Gillies:—Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, before seconding the adoption of the report I desire to say a few words with regard to the two new steamers that have just been added to the fleet. I think you will all admit gentlemen, that it is folly to run a "line" of passenger steamers that are not adapted to it. Such was the position the Company found itself to be two years ago, before the new steamers were ordered. The old steamers were very much too small and lacked passenger accommodation for the increasing requirements of the Manila trade, and it was thought advisable to get two new vessels, quite up to date, and giving the passenger accommodation that was necessary for the line between this and Manila. The Chairman has very clearly stated to you that the trade between Hongkong and Manila has increased very much and, gentlemen, if you wish to retain that interest in the trade that you have held in former years you must be prepared to put steamers upon the line that will encourage passengers to travel by them. The old steamers did not give that accommodation to passengers and they were inclined to go elsewhere, where their comfort was more attended to. With these few remarks, gentlemen, I beg to second the adoption of the report.

Mr. Veitch:—Gentlemen, before the Chairman formally proposes the adoption of the report and accounts, with your permission, I should like to make a few remarks. In the first place, I would suggest the advisability in the future of issuing the Report at least a clear fortnight before the meeting, so that shareholders—non-resident in the Colony—may be enabled, if they think fit, to comment thereon. Now, as regards the Accounts, although we must do the general managers the justice to assume that they have done the best possible in their opinion in the interests of the Company, it would be difficult, I imagine, to find a better exemplification of the mischief arising from not leaving well alone than the present condition of the Company. We started the year 1901 in a splendid position. During the year, the gross earnings of the steamers Perla, Esmeralda, and Diamante were $195,902.71, less the profits attaching to the voyages of the new steamer Zafiro, made in December—she commenced running on 30th November. This amount of $195,902.71 is made up as follows, namely:—Amount written off for depreciation, $96,123.30; Exchange, Adjustment Account, $49,689.45; Balance of Profit and Loss $115,594.57—a total of $64,747.97. Deduct the balance brought forward of $67,845.25, this leaves the total earnings at the amount stated, namely $195,902.71. Nothing in the accounts is shown as to the cost of management, which I venture to think should in future accounts be given. Then, as regards depreciation, last year ten per cent. on the value of the Company's fleet was written off; this year a very much larger sum, $96,123.30 is set aside. I shall be glad to hear how much of this applies to the three older steamers and how much to the Zafiro. The latter is practically a brand new boat, and it seems to me that the amount at present provided for depreciation is excessive. If with our old fleet we could make such a handsome showing, what was the object in contracting, especially at a time when the cost of shipbuilding had perhaps reached its highest point of late years, for a couple of steamers of a gross tonnage of tons 5,078, costing up to the 31st December last $1,411,123.30. This item is curiously worded, and causes me to think a further amount will have to be added to this already enormous sum. My impressions may be wrong, but the Chairman will doubtless enlighten me. Further, will he kindly state the actual cost per ton of these new steamers? Taking £70,000 roughly as the price of each, I make out the cost per ton to be £77.10 or thereabouts, which when I know of a steamer here—an eleven-knot boat, not so elaborately fitted up, as ours—costing only about £13.8 per ton, you will agree with me it is a very high price to pay. It appears to me that these steamers were ordered without any clear idea as to how the necessary funds to meet their cost were to be provided, consequently our present position as a Company is deplorable in the extreme. We owe our bankers $224,000.85, and a loan in London of $521,739.12 has to be met sooner or later. Some further information as to the terms and conditions of this loan should be given. Shareholders, according to the report, should their distrust by refusing to subscribe the additional capital asked for, which is hardly to be wondered at. The shares of the Company, which a few weeks ago stood at a premium of 20 per cent. can now be purchased at a discount of 40 per cent. There is no money available to pay a dividend to shareholders, although the balance at credit of profit and loss is sufficient for a 10 per cent. dividend.

The only people who do make money are the General Managers. They get their 5 per cent. on all outward passage money and freight from Hongkong, and on all other revenue procured by them, also a commission of 2 1/2 per cent. on all disbursements made at Hongkong, and also a commission of 1 per cent. on the amount received by the Company on the building, purchase, or sale by the Company of any steamer or vessel. What do the shareholders get? Nothing! (Applause).

Mr. Brutton:—I have had some questions put into my hands which a certain body of the shareholders would like to have answered, and I propose afterwards to make a few remarks with reference to the reduction of the working expenses. Would you prefer me to read all these questions first, and then you give your answers afterwards?

The Chairman:—Read them all first.

Mr. Brutton:—I think it would be better if you answered the questions one after the other, because your answers might enable me to cut out certain of the questions I have now got, and I think it might shorten time.

The Chairman:—I think it would shorten time if I answered you on the whole.

Mr. Brutton:—I do not know what the shareholders think about that, but I think if the questions were answered it would be the means.

The Chairman:—Mr. Brutton, I am Chairman, and I have the right to conduct the meeting in the way I think best.

Mr. Brutton:—Before I do so I will make a few remarks with regard to the Company in general. I think a number of shareholders here have listened with a great deal of pleasure to the remarks made by Mr. Veitch with reference to this report, and it occurs to me that if the shareholders pass and adopt the resolution then they state they are fully satisfied with the general management of this company. Now before the resolution is put it occurs to me that it would be well to more or less recapitulate what Mr. Veitch has said, and it would certainly be far better for the shareholders if I knew what the answers of the General Managers were going to be. The first point is whether the General Managers were justified, looking at the receipts and accounts for 1899-1900, in asking the shareholders to adopt, as has been adopted, the large increase in the capital of the Company. Now, Mr. Veitch has clearly pointed out the exact position of the Company in 1899-1900. We have seen that in 1899 with a capital of $300,000 the net profits amounted to $96,000 odd, and the shareholders were then paid a dividend of 10 per cent. In 1900, with practically a similar capital—I think I am right in saying that, because the extra capital not being subscribed until the end of 1900 he understood was not used—the net profits amounted to $143,000. That was practically 30 per cent. on the capital. In 1901, on a capital of $1,000,000, the profit amounted to $115,000 odd, which is practically 11 per cent. on the increased capital. Now, the question is—Did those earnings for 1899-1900 warrant the General Managers going to the expense of ordering these two new steamers? I presume I am right in saying—as I have had no answers to my questions—that when this increase of capital was asked for on 14th April, 1900, the General Managers contemplated that this increased capital would be sufficient to pay for the two steamers, or, at any rate, if not sufficient to pay for them, the earnings, after allowing for a dividend of say 10 per cent. would be sufficient, in time, to pay for them. I say this because on the 23rd March, 1901, the Chairman in his speech said: "I have been asked by several shareholders why we don't declare a larger dividend," and the answer I gave them was "You can't eat your cake and still have it." Therefore, it is proposed to pay a dividend of five per cent. and to use the balance—I think I am right—in putting it towards payment of the new steamers. That I submit, led the shareholders to believe, and rightly too, that they would have a ten per cent. dividend down at any rate, and that there would be sufficient out of the earnings to go towards the cost of the two new steamers. At that time, there was a balance of $600,000, on the increased capital, which could be used towards the payment of these two new steamers. In 1901, at the end of the year, the General Managers asked for a further increase of capital to $500,000. The whole question, therefore, for the shareholders is whether they are going to adopt these accounts as they stand, or whether they are going to express by their vote certain dissatisfaction with the management of the Company, because if as it is contended, the receipts and earnings of the Company did not warrant the General Managers increasing the capital fivefold as has been done, then certain of the shareholders are of opinion that the General Managers did wrong in doing as they did (applause). It is very easy I know to be wise after the event, but the question is, was it necessary, in the interests of the Company, to increase the Capital to this extent? I have already informed you, what dividend you were getting on your money, and with regard to these two new steamers, taking the figures as mentioned on the report, nearly $400,000 odd, in order to get a dividend of ten per cent. and to pay five per cent. depreciation for these two steamers it was necessary for the General Managers, at any rate, to have some prospect of earning $700,000. I am taking a ten per cent. dividend because I submit that on the chairman's speech on the 23rd March, 1901, he made you believe and you were entitled to believe that you would get a ten per cent. dividend, and that you would, out of the earnings of the steamers be able to pay off whatever liability there was remaining over and above the $900,000. Now Mr. Veitch also mentioned the remuneration of the General Managers. Now there is a feeling among certain shareholders that when the capital of the Company was $300,000 5 per cent. 2 1/2 per cent. and 1 per cent. mentioned in clause 10 of Articles, might be a very fair and good remuneration for the General Managers but now, when you have got the capital of the Company increased fivefold, there is a feeling that some reduction should be made, or that the Articles of Association should be altered in some way so that the General Managers should not get their 5 per cent. 2 1/2 per cent. and 1 per cent. on the whole business of the Company. Therefore, it is for the shareholders to show by their vote whether they are satisfied with the management and whether there ought not to be some alteration made in regard to their remuneration. Another point mentioned by some is the depreciation of $99,000. Does that sum include any depreciation on these two steamers and if so how much? I submit that by the Articles of Association—

Mr. Veitch:—Excuse me, Mr. Brutton, the Rubi was not here then.

Mr. Brutton:—Yes, I am coming to that. I wanted to know whether that 5% included depreciation on either or both of these two new steamers. The wording of that Clause is that the 5% can only be deducted on the working of the steamers for the previous year.

The Chairman:—Nothing of the kind, Mr. Brutton. Read the clause.

Mr. Brutton:—I am open to correction. I think that construction can be very fairly put on the meaning of it. I submit that it means depreciation on the steamers which have been working and earning profits for the Company (applause), and therefore the shareholders would like to know what portion, if any, of that $99,000 was written off for depreciation on these two new steamers. There is one other point, and that is whether it is considered necessary, in the interest of the Company that this Company, with a small fleet, should have the services of a marine superintendent. I think I am right in saying that other steamship companies—the Douglas Steamship Company with a fleet of six steamers—have no superintendent, and it seems to me that as the earnings of the Company with increased capital are so small that some attempt should be made by the management to cut down all possible expenses so that there should be some return for the shareholders (applause). It seems to me that you have got your cake in the shape of these two ships, but you get precious little chance of getting a bite out of them (laughter). The capital has not been subscribed for and until it is subscribed for, it seems that all the earnings have got to be taken up for the next few years in the payment of these ships. Therefore, you have got your cake, you can look at it but you cannot get anything out of it. In the first place, I move that the Report and Accounts, as submitted to the meeting, be not passed.

The Chairman:—You have simply to vote against my proposition. You can't make that motion.

Mr. Brutton:—I move that the resolution be not carried.

The Chairman:—You cannot move a resolution or amendment; you simply vote against my proposition. You, a lawyer, ought to know that.

Mr. Brutton then put his questions as follows:—When did you first contemplate purchasing these two steamers? On 14th April, 1900, when the capital of the Company was increased to $1,000,000, did you then know what the cost of these steamers was to be. On the 14th of April, 1900, if they knew that the increase of capital was not sufficient to pay for the two steamers, was it not the duty of the general managers to inform the shareholders that that increase would not be sufficient and that they intended to ask for a further increase? What was the purchase cost of the Diamante? As the Zafiro and Rubi were to cost so much more than the Diamante, should not shareholders have been informed of the fact before the steamers were ordered? The Diamante cost something like four lakhs and the two new steamers over seven lakhs.

The Chairman (after a pause):—Go on, with your questions, Mr. Brutton. It does not matter I will tell you.

Mr. Brutton (continuing):—What was the total amount of profits to be applied towards the cost of the new steamers? What was the working expenses of the fleet for 1901? Did that include the General Managers' commission, and what would be the General Managers' commission for 1901? Depreciation $99,463; did this sum indicate depreciation of new steamers? If so, how much (applause)?

The Chairman:—Are there any other observations to be made?

Mr. E. S. Joseph:—I want to know how many firms tendered for the building of the two new boats, and who were they?

The Chairman:—I think there were about 30.

Mr. E. S. Joseph:—And was the lowest tender accepted?

The Chairman:—Go on.

Mr. E. S. Joseph:—And I want to know about Mr. Gordon, who was sent to superintend the building of these two boats; whether he had a proper engineers certificate before he went home or not.

The Chairman:—Well, gentlemen, you have put a great many questions to me, and I think very flattering to me if you suppose I carry all those details in my head. I assure Mr. Brutton does not think anything of the kind, but I will do the best I can in the position I am placed to answer you. It seems to me that you are only crying over spilt milk. It may be human nature. The new boats were authorised by you and you authorised the extra capital for the new boats. You have heard what Mr. Gillies said in favour of our building these boats and in favour of our policy, and he is certainly a much better judge of these matters than a lawyer. Mr. Brutton has gone a long way back into ancient history, but I can't follow him there. What has been done has been done, and neither

GIRAULT, for TABLE DELICACIES, by every Mail.

GIRAULT, for FINE FRENCH BREAD, 4, 6 and 12 lbs.

GIRAULT, for WINES, LIQUEURS, BEER, and SPIRITS.

GIRAULT, for the Best assortment of CONFECTIONERIES.

I nor Mr. Brutton can alter it. We are satisfied that what we did was in the best interests of the Company, and I am sure time will prove that we were right. As for the marine superintendent—to do away with him would be no economy at all. As to his qualifications, I know nothing. That is his business, not mine. I am satisfied he is a good servant of this Company. The fact that the Douglas Company—I don't know whether Mr. Brutton was correct in saying that—has no marine superintendent is surely met by the fact that every other marine company in Hongkong has a superintendent. We had to get first-class passenger boats, and we could not get them for the cost of cargo boats. I think I have, at previous meetings, admitted that they exceeded their first estimate, and that is not to be wondered at. The cost of shipbuilding is rising all the time. Mr. Veitch's suggestion that the report and accounts should be issued a little sooner is a very unimportant matter. It will have our attention if you cannot understand such accounts in a week; it does not seem to me you will understand them in six weeks.

Mr. Veitch—What about people in the out-ports?

The Chairman—You had better leave them to themselves.

Mr. Veitch—I got mine on Monday last, and from Monday till to-day is not sufficient.

The Chairman—With regard to depreciation. It is clearly laid down that we must write 5 per cent. off the value of the boats for the time being and I cannot take the responsibility for the writing off of that amount. It is merely a paper entry, and it makes absolutely no difference. Why does Mr. Brutton harp on this question of depreciation?

Mr. Veitch—I also harp on it.

The Chairman—It is laid down in the Articles of Association that I must write five per cent. off the book value of these boats.

Mr. Veitch—What boat were they?

The Chairman—Sit down Mr. Veitch.

Mr. Veitch—You had no right whatever to write off the Zafra, Perla and Rubi. The Zafra is a brand new boat, and if it had run twelve months you would have been perfectly right.

The Chairman—I have no right to do anything but what is prescribed by the Articles of Association.

Mr. Veitch—I don't think the Articles of Association should allow you to write off the steamer—it is a very grave matter. The steamer was not here; it had not arrived in Hongkong.

The Chairman—What difference would it make?

Mr. Veitch—It would make a great deal of difference in the matter of profit and loss.

The Chairman—What difference would it make to you?

Mr. Veitch—I don't know that it would make any difference to me.

The Chairman—Then why make so much fuss about a thing that will make no difference to you? We are doing it properly, as we are bound to do it by the Articles of Association.

Mr. Veitch—I question it.

Mr. S. A. Joseph—I also question it very much. I say no.

The Chairman—The present scheme was fixed by a Committee of yourselves.

Mr. Veitch—I should like to ask what amount was paid as Commission. I do not cavil at the amount the General Managers get; 5 per cent is not too much but what I do think, Mr. Chairman, is that you ought to put it in your accounts and show what the working cost is. Many of the shareholders want to know.

The Chairman—Thank you Mr. Veitch. That is a suggestion we will take into consideration.

Mr. Veitch—I don't cavil at your commission for a moment, I think you ought to show it in the accounts.

The Chairman—If you come below presently we will look into the books, and I will show you the amount.

Mr. Michael—You have invited Mr. Veitch, but all the shareholders want to know.

The Chairman—I decline to take all the shareholders.

Mr. Michael—I have the right. I am a partner in this concern, and I am entitled to know everything.

The Chairman—Very good, Mr. Michael, I decline.

Mr. Michael—I am entitled to get it. You have no right to take in Mr. Veitch, and none of the others.

The Chairman—Then we won't take in Mr. Veitch. Mr. Arnold, are you satisfied?

Mr. S. A. Joseph rose and interrupted.

The Chairman—(firmly)—Will you sit down?

Mr. Arnold—I want very carefully to state the matter. Nothing has been charged but what the General Managers are strictly entitled to charge. The amount I am not at liberty to mention.

Mr. Brutton—There is no question whatever in the minds of the shareholders that the General Managers have charged what they are perfectly entitled to. It is only whether the amount should not be reduced, now that the capital is so much larger.

The Chairman—That will be considered if you put it forward as a suggestion. It will have every consideration.

Mr. Veitch—I don't object for one moment to the commission.

Mr. S. A. Joseph—And I don't object to it.

The Chairman—Very good. As it seems none of you are objecting then we will put the motion to the meeting.

Mr. Arnold suggested that a dividend might be made in the form of scrip.

The Chairman—We can't do that.

Mr. Arnold—Out of the profits?

The Chairman—We cannot do it out of the profits.

Mr. Arnold—Are you sure?

G. GIRAULT, GENERAL GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, & BAKERY.

G. GIRAULT, for RED, WHITE, BLUE, & GREAT SPECIALTY COFFEES.

The Chairman—I have asked my solicitors, and they say no.

Mr. Arnold—Well, you might take further opinion on that. It seems rather hard we should get nothing at all.

The Chairman—I have explained why it cannot be done. All I can tell you is that I went into this question very carefully with Mr. Deacon, and he came to the conclusion that it would not be good in law.

Mr. Arnold said it seemed to him a good suggestion to get $100,000 paid off.

Mr. Michael—What rate of interest are you paying on the money on both steamers?

The Chairman—6½ per cent to the Company in London.

Mr. Michael—That is good interest.

The Chairman—So much the better for the Company.

Mr. E. S. Joseph—I want to know whether you accepted the lowest tender and whether Mr. Gordon has any certificate as an engineer?

The Chairman—That I cannot tell you, I cannot go into that.

Mr. E. S. Joseph—What? You cannot tell whether he is a competent man?

The Chairman—He must have a certificate because he was elected to the Engineers' Institute. I decline to discuss the question. You can ask Mr. Gordon; not me. I am quite satisfied with him, certificate or no certificate.

Mr. Joseph—Is it not your duty to find out whether he is a competent man?

The Chairman—I have found him to be a competent man.

Mr. E. S. Joseph—Did you accept the lowest tender?

The Chairman—Not quite the lowest.

Mr. E. S. Joseph—What was the lowest?

The Chairman—I cannot remember. It is almost a year ago. It would be a few hundred pounds less.

Mr. E. S. Joseph—What was the contract price? When was it known to you last year?

The Chairman—We will refer to the minutes.

Mr. Brutton—Before you answer that question, Mr. Chairman, you referred to the cost of the steamers up to 31st December. I am not satisfied. It seems to me, there is more to come on to the cost of these steamers.

The Chairman—There are a few thousand dollars to be added to the cost of the steamers, perhaps $5,000 or so. We have got to provide for exchange. It may drop to 1/6 yet.

The Chairman—Then proceeded to take the vote.

Mr. Veitch—Could you not have got the money out here?

The Chairman—No, we tried very hard. Those in favour of the motion kindly hold up their hands.

Mr. S. A. Joseph—(excitedly)—I rise to a point of order. I object to Mr. Babington voting. Here are the shares that he holds. He was very careful to sell out at the highest price.

The Chairman—Mr. Joseph, if you are making a charge against Mr. Babington, I have nothing to do with that.

Mr. S. A. Joseph—He has no right to vote for the motion.

The Chairman—(firmly)—Mr. Joseph, silence. You cannot make these remarks at this meeting.

The motion was then put and carried by a majority of about a dozen.

The Chairman—The motion is certainly carried.

Mr. E. S. Joseph—I hold three proxies.

Mr. S. A. Joseph—And I hold two.

The Chairman—I have nothing to do with them. I declare the motion carried.

Mr. S. A. Joseph—What about Mr. Babington?

The Chairman—Finish this first, and then you can have it out if you like.

Messrs. N. A. Siebs, H. P. White, D. E. Brown and G. H. Medhurst were re-elected as Consulting Committee, and Messrs. T. Arnold and Potts as auditors for the ensuing year.

The Chairman—That is all the business, gentlemen.

NOTICE.

THE SECOND VOLUME of BOX'S EXCHANGE TABLES with Rates in 1/16ths from 1/1015/16 down to 1/8d, is now in the bookbinders' hands and will be published next week. These Tables, which run in columns of 100, from 1/999 down to 1/1, and from 1/11 down to 1/2 of grain 999 down to 1 cent, enable the user to arrive at the value in Dollars of any sum in Sterling under £1,000 by simply adding the equivalent of the Shillings and Pence to that of the Pounds; or to get the value in Sterling of any Sum of Dollars and Cents under $1,000 by adding the equivalent of the Cents to that of the Dollars. By these simple means of computation a very considerable saving of time and trouble, besides securing a ready means of proving accuracy is secured, as is illustrated in the following examples. To reduce £879.17.11 into Dollars at Exchange 1/10 1/16—

£879. 0. 0	= $9,561. 926
17. 11. =	9. 745
$9,571. 671

whereas with the other exchange books the process would be as follows—

£800. 0. 0	= $8,702. 550
70. 0. 0	= 761. 473
9. 0. 0	= 97. 904
17. 0. 0	= 9. 247
11. =	0. 497
$9,571. 671

or to reconvert the dollars into sterling at the same rate of exchange—

$9,000.00	= £827. 6. 10. 8
571.000	= 52. 9. 11
671. =	1. 2. 13
£879. 17. 11. 00

but by other books it would be:—

$9,000.00	= £827. 6. 10. 8
500.000	= 45. 10. 3. 4
70.000	= 6. 8. 8. 6
1.000	= 1. 10. 1
600	= 1. 1. 3
70	= 1. 9
11	= 1
£879. 17. 11. 00

Every care has been taken in compiling these Tables to insure their accuracy and even as the book was being printed the latest impression of each sheet was taken and carefully rechecked by two separate persons and any little errors in reading which will crop up in such works as these are carefully corrected in each copy before it is issued, thus making it a most accurate and useful book. Subscriptions for this and the previous volume, may be sent to the Daily Telegraph Office, Price 5/6 per copy. Hongkong, 10th February, 1902. [172d]

The estimated cost will amount to over $15,000. To cover these expenses we Appeal to the liberality of all friends of Education. The establishment has been in existence for the last 25 years and is open to all classes. Much of the clerical work of the city is carried on by its past pupils. As this is the first time we have applied for assistance we expect a generous response. The names of our most liberal Benefactors will be inscribed upon marble tablets, as a lasting testimony of their generosity.
